

Tempering →

Tempering process involves reheating of the hardened steel to a certain temp. below the lower critical temp. followed by a slow cooling rate.

Purpose of Tempering -

- * It relieves internal stresses.
- * It improve toughness.
- * It reduces brittleness of hardened steel.