Environmental ethics

Environmental ethics refers to the issues principles and guide lines relating to human interaction with their environment. Some important ethical guidelines known as earth ethics or environmental ethics

- You should know that natural resources are limited and available for all

- You should honor and love the earth

- You should keep each day sacred

- You should not hold yourself above other living beings thing.

- You should grateful the plants and animals who nourish you by giving food.

- You should limit your population

- You should not waste your resources (Conservation of Natural Resources)

- You should not steal from future generation their right to live on clear & safe earth

```
                        ┌─────────────────────────┐
                        │  Environmental ethics   │
                        └─────────────────────────┘
                              │             │
                              ▼             ▼
                   ┌────────────┐      ┌────────────┐
                   │  Ist view  │      │  IInd view │
                   └────────────┘      └────────────┘
                         │                   │
                         ▼                   ▼
```

UNSUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

DEVELOPMENT CAUSES
Environmental pollution
Diseases
Loss of species
Global warming
Ozone depletion
Climate changes
Water cycle changes

DEVELOPMENT CAUSES
Social equity
Economical equity
Ecological security like
- Check the Environmental pollution
- Control of Diseases
- Conservation of species
- Control Global warming
- Checked Ozone depletion