

SCOPE OF ENVIRONMENT

Environment studies as a subject has a wide scope, It has large area and aspects. Which are summarized as follows

1. Natural resources- study air, water, sunlight, forest and fossil fuel has a wide area for career.
2. Ecology and biodiversity- Study of all a biotic and biotic components and their interaction has a great scope.
3. Social environmental issues in development and environment
4. Research and development- The techniques are developed in examine and controlling the environmental problem. R&D developing the ceaning technology to promote the sustainable development. In INDIA P.C.B. (Pollution Control Board) are seriously implementing the pollution control law
5. Green advocacy- Acts and law related to environment need environment lawyer.
6. Green marketing- The marketing of eco-friendly (ISO: 1400) products needs the managers would be great demand in coming years./
7. Green media-Environment awareness can be spread through media like television, radio news papers magazine hording advertisement etc for which environment educated persons are required.
8. Green consultancy- Many NGOs, industries and government bodies are engaging environment consultants to remove the environmental problems.
9. Green education- Experts can teach the students about environment and its degradation.